

The Ramayana Poem

King Dasharata desperately wants an son.
The many gods decide Ravana has had enough fun.
Vishnu says " I will be born as a human and the work will be done."
Rama is born, the queen's maid pokes fun.

Queen Kaikeyi goes to Dasharata
Suggests "Give the throne to Bharata."
Dasharata frowns but calls over Rama,
"Son, you are exiled, so follow your dharma"

Dasharata dies, Rama stays away.
A lady demon comes and looks in Rama's way.
Rama rages and cuts her ears and nose.
She tells her brother, who's fuse blows.

Ravana comes, Sita forced to follow.
Jatayu tries to interfere, while flying solo.
Ravana slashes, the bird fall quite a distance.
Rama runs to Hanuman for assistance.

Hanuman saves the dear princess.
And Rama fights the demons with success!
14 years have passed in a breeze,
And to rule again, Rama agrees.

The End.

